Privation, Scorpions Battled

1,000 Now Believed Dead In Mexico Storm, Floods

COLIMA, Mexico (AP) — With 1,000 or more believed dead from a sneak hurricane and widespread floods, the dazed people of this smallest of Mexico's 23 states today struggled against privation and swarms of poisonous scorpions.

The disaster—Mexico's worst in recent history — covered an area on the Pacific Coast slightly larger than New Jersey with a population of about 100,000.

The violent storm that roared through the port of Manzanillo Tuesday and the floods that followed drove thousands from homes, knocked over communication lines and overran highways, hindering rescue efforts.

The dead may include three U.S. women who were aboard a small coastal freighter apparently lost at sea.

Colima State Gov. Rodolfo Chavez Carrillo estimated that about 800 persons were killed in Mintitlan, a farming village of about 1,000 located 24 miles northwest of Colima.

Other preliminary fatality figures included: Manzanillo, 74; Tecoman, 16; Chiuatlán, in adjoining Jalisco state, 14; Coahuayama, in Michoacan state, 7.

The federal government officially put the known dead at 438 but conceded that many hundreds were missing.

The navy announced that 21 of 38 persons who had been aboard the 1,800-ton freighter Sinaloa were missing. The navy report did not say whether the rescued included the three American women passengers—Lucille Pette, 55, Laguna Beach, Calif.; and Margaret Gower, 43, and her mother Viva Whaley Harris, 63, both of Acapulco and formerly of San Bernardino, Calif.

Emergency appeals for food, clothing and medicine continued throughout most of the disaster area despite 'round-the-clock supply drops by all available planes and helicopters.

There were urgent calls for vaccine against the deadly sting of scorpions—driven from their nests in flood-crumbled adobe walls.

"Thousands of persons have been stung and need inoculations," Gov. Chavez Carrillo reported. "Scorpions are everywhere."

He reported that 100 bodies already had been buried in Minatitlan, another 100 were still to be buried and officials believed that possibly 600 more would be found in the rubble.

The hurricane fell upon an unsuspecting area. It crept up the West Coast, bypassed Acapulco and its big resort hotels, and moved on at a torpid 18 miles per hour. The Weather Bureau figured it would veer out to the west, into the Pacific. Instead, it angled sharply to the east and fell upon Manzanillo, a sleepy fishing port of about 7,000 population.

School Board Aspirants Wait Tuesday Vote

Balloting Will Range From 6-Way Race To Write-In Method

Balloting on school board candidates throughout Columbiana County in Tuesday's general election will range from a six-way race for three seats in the Fairfield-Waterford District to a write-in vote for a post in the Franklin Local District.

County Board Lacks Contest For 2 Posts

No contest is slated for two posts on the Columbiana County Board of Education in Tuesday's general election in which Mrs. Elizabeth Strabley of Salineville and Dan Furey of Hanoverton are unopposed.

Mrs. Strabley was appointed to the board earlier this year to replace her husband, Freeman Strabley, who resigned.

Furey, operator of a sand and gravel firm near Bayard, filed for the seat held by George Wilkinson of Oakmont who did not seek re-election, but who is a candidate for the Beaver Local Board.

tion and the Beaver Local District, where candidates are unopposed.

A write-in candidate will be chosen for a seat on the Franklin Local board where John Dangelo, of Summitville incumbent, is the only nominee listed for the two open posts. Roy McKarns of Kensington R. D., incumbent, did not file for re-election.

At Fairfield-Waterford, each of the three open posts are contested by the incumbents who favor building a new high school and retaining the present consolidated system and another group seeking to dissolve the district and merge with Columbiana and East Palestine.

The incumbents are Harold Gray of Leetonia R. D., Wayne Rupert of New Waterford and Mrs. Beulah Converse of Leetonia R. D. They are opposed by Thomas A. Hess of Leetonia R. D. 2, Patrick Samora of New Waterford R. D. 1 and Robert Crane of East Palestine R. D. 2.

Also to be decided is a $390,000 bond issue for a new high school, the proposed merger plan and a renewal of a 4-mill levy.

Jack Pozenel of West Point will be unopposed for a third term on the Beaver Local Board of Education.

'30P Asks Enactment Of County Home Issue

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today asked its members to vote Tuesday in favor of a $989,000 bond issue to build a new County Home.

"There is no doubt as to the need for a new home," the union members were told in their official newspaper, The Potters Herald.

"Brotherhood members have visited the home and observed firsthand the deplorable conditions that exist."

Pointing out that the buildings are nearly 100 years old, the IBOP referred to the structures as "fire traps." It said that approval of the bond issue would cost the average county tax payer only about $1.44 a year.

President Due Annual Check At Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is in Walter Reed Army Hospital today for his annual physical examination.

The 69-year-old President entered the medical center late Thursday. The White House said he expects to check out Saturday or Sunday.

Eisenhower still is bothered by a lingering cold which he caught early last month. And he said a week ago that during the last three years he has developed chronic bronchitis.

But press secretary James C. Hagerty says those ailments did not cause the President to go to Walter Reed. Hagerty noted that Eisenhower has been getting an annual checkup for several years.

The last one was almost 13 months ago. At that time the doctors said the President was in excellent health.

That report came against a background of his 1955 heart attack, surgery for ileitis in 1956 and a slight stroke in 1957.

This latest examination comes soon after Eisenhower's Sept. 30-Oct. 8 visit to Palm Springs, Calif., where he tried to shake his cold in that hot, dry climate.

Last week he spent five days in Augusta, Ga., in another quest for sunshine. But the weather was miserable during most of that stay.

It was at Augusta that the President expressed a layman's opinion that he had been hit by an attack of flu just before he went to Southern California.

Thursday, Eisenhower played 18 holes of golf in suburban Maryland just before entering the hospital.

Police Are Puzzled

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Police here are puzzled by a student's discovery of a 133-year-old tombstone near the Chardon High School football field. Police Chief John Bohl said the four-foot, 300-pound slab did not appear to have been dug up from a local cemetery. It bore this inscription:

"John Collins, died Jan. 8, 1826 at the age of 61. His wife, Fannie, 72, died on August 11, 1832."

Trustees Given Explanation

Wetzel Says Tract Owner Blocks Highlandtown Lake

Delay of the proposed Highlandtown Lake project was blamed Thursday night by State Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon on a property owner who has refused to sell a needed 9-acre farm tract at the site.

Questioned at a meeting of the County Trustees and Clerks Association at Lisbon, Wetzel said the land is needed because the proposed lake will cover it.

One member pointed out the highway department appropriates land it needs, but Wetzel said the situation is different with the State Wildlife Division because it cannot declare the utilization of the land is a necessity.

Wetzel said he understood the proposed purchase was to be taken to court, but he had not heard of any late developments.

Wetzel reported on the 103rd General Assembly's actions. He was questioned on how he had voted on the metropolitan federation question and he said he had voted

Rail, Unions Appear Ready For Showdown

'Featherbedding' Controversy To Be Debated On Sunday

CHICAGO (AP)—The most explosive issue between the nation's railroads and railroad unions—a controversy that has brought threats of a possible nationwide strike—will come out in the open Sunday.

The carriers will make their formal proposals for changing the rules that have governed railroad work for more than four decades.

The railroads call the work agreements "featherbedding" — forced payment for work not done or needed. They claim the practices they want to eliminate are obsolete and wasteful and cost them more than 500 million dollars a year.

The unions counter that the working rules are essential to insure safe and efficient railroad transportation. They claim that railroad workers have a higher record of increased productivity than any other class of workers.

The management proposals will reach union officials Monday or Tuesday. Industry spokesmen estimate that if neither side yields or compromises in later negotiations, a legal nationwide strike could be called by around next April 1. Dispute-handling provisions of the Railway Labor Act would prevent a legal walkout over the issue before that date.

If a nationwide strike is called, more than 800,000 railroad workers would be made idle.

Wage negotiations are deadlocked with three key unions. A walkout over this issue conceivably could come as early as next January if all settlement and delaying efforts fail.

The unions have demanded a 12 per cent pay boost and the carriers countered with a proposal they take a 15-cent hourly pay cut.

A three-year moratorium expires Monday on the working rules affecting 210,000 employees engaged in the actual operation of the trains.

Crucible Loss Is $2,034,090

Estimate Is Based On Period Of Strike

Crucible Steel Co. of America today reported an estimated net loss of $2,034,090 for the quarter which ended Sept. 30, and estimated net income of $6,587,000 for the first nine months.

Results for the third quarter are partly estimated because mill records are not accessible because of the steel strike, the company said. Most Crucible mills have been closed since July 15.

The estimated loss for the quarter is equal to 56 cents per common share after provision for preferred stock dividends. For the first nine months, estimated net income was equal to $1.66 per common share. In 1958, net income amounted to 33 cents per common share for the first nine months and $1.13 per share for the full year.

The company said the third quarter sales totaled $24,566,607 as compared to $43,355,875 in the corresponding quarter in 1958. Depreciation and amortization totaled $2,448,480 for the last quarter as against $2,217,798 while the company has a credit of $3,575,000 on federal income taxes for the past quarter and paid $321,030 in the 1958 quarter.

For the first nine months, sales totaled $179,133,564 this year as compared to $129,221,644 for 1958. Depreciation and amortization for the nine months totaled $7,184,622 to $6,589,289 for 1958.

Federal income taxes in the first nine months totaled $6,209,000 as compared to $451,641 for the first three quarters in 1958, the company's report said.

The net income of $6,586,971 compared to the 1958 net of $1,253,071.

Third Small Company Signs USW Again Seeks Peace With Major Steel Firms

Granite City, Union Agree On Contract

Pattern Comparable To Settlement With Kaiser And Detroit

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The United Steelworkers — heartened by agreement with a third small company — try again to make peace with major steel firms in the 108 - day nationwide steel strike.

The union and Granite City Steel Co. signed a new labor pact Thursday night. It followed the same pattern as union agreements with Kaiser Steel Corp. and Detroit Steel Corp. earlier in the week.

Granite City, the nation's 17th largest producer, employs 3,250 workers in mills in Granite City, Ill., with capacity to produce 1,440,000 tons of steel a year. The company had been operating under terms of a contract extension.

The newest agreement came several hours after top-level negotiators for the union and the industry's Big 11 companies failed to make any progress in a meeting that lasted nearly three hours.

Government mediators told the top negotiators to meet in Washington Monday unless they can reach agreement before then. A settlement before Monday seemed unlikely.

A Taft-Hartley injunction to end the dispute for at least 80 days also is hanging over the heads of the negotiators and the half million strikers. Enforcement of the injunction has been delayed by the union's appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The three contracts signed so far provide package increases valued by the union at 22½ cents an hour during the 20-month agreement periods. All three companies say they do not expect any immediate price increases.

The big producers say such agreements would force them to raise steel prices and thus contribute to inflation.

The big issues in the top-level dispute concern the union's de-

'... AND THE GOBLINS'LL GET YOU.' Strange things will be happening tonight and Saturday night as Tri-State District youngsters don costumes such as these for their annual Halloween forays. There will be window tappings, door knockings and the clatter of feet across porches with the shrill exclamation, "Trick or treat?" And woe be to the householder who doesn't have fruit or sweets for a handout. Organized groups of the youngsters will be soliciting coins for UNICEF but neighborhood children will be going after the traditional "loot" of candy bars and apples.

7 Youngsters Perish In Fire In Iowa Home

Baby Sitter, 14, Saved By Fireman In Slum Dwelling

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP)—Seven young children, crowded into a small two-room house with a baby sitter, died today when fire destroyed the slum area dwelling.

The baby sitter, Sharon Ann Dooley, 14, owes her life to a fireman who was familiar with the house, having helped remodel it several years ago.

Six of the victims were children of Patricia Van Horne, about 28, who police said was out with Lorraine Campbell, whose only child, Carla, 4, also was killed.

The Van Horne children were Karen Rae, 9; Sharon Kay, 7; Patty Sue, 6; LeRoy, 4; Debra Ann, 2; and Cynthia, 1.

The bodies of the children were huddled in the kitchen, which had a small window. They apparently suffocated. The Dooley girl suffered burns over two-thirds of her body and was in critical condition. She was found with the dead children.

Authorities were not immediately able to determine the cause of the blaze.

Police said a coal stove was apparently the only means of heating the frame house, but it showed no evidence of having been fired, they said.

The fire burned across the front of the house first, they said, blocking the only door.

Mrs. Campbell, whose truck driver husband, Carl, is reported in Illinois, suffered shock and was taken to a hospital. Mrs. Van Horne refused to comment, police said.

Police said Mrs. Van Horne's husband, Herman, disappeared last February. The mother was unemployed, they said, and the children received state aid.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Tom Anderson Sr., grandmother of the Van Horne children. Anderson, who lives about half a block away, was unable to get into the house.

Fireman Bob Knox, who had worked on the house, donned a smoke mask and got into the dwelling through a window.

Nurse's Firing Denied

Commissioners, Home Head Feud

A split between Columbiana County commissioners and County Home Supt. Russell Phillis widened today over a controversy regarding the status of Miss Grace McLaughlin, nurse at the infirmary.

Miss McLaughlin of Lisbon, hired in September, reported Thursday she had been "fired" by Phillis because she failed to follow his orders, but Phillis, in a lengthy conference with commissioners at the Courthouse, denied he had discharged her.

Earlier, Phillis denied a report that he had resigned. Asked if he had left his job, the superintendent emphatically said he had not, adding, "Somebody has to fight for the old people there, and I guess I'm elected."

Earlier this month, Commissioner Frank Wilson of Wellsville asked Gov. Michael DiSalle to investigate the operations of the home, saying he had heard complaints about Phillis' administration. The governor later declined to enter the matter which he termed "local."

'Quite Obvious,' Mayor Says

Carter Tags 53 Autoists; Lawrence Hints 'Politics'

Asked to comment today on the fact that a lone cruiser patrolman issued 53 tickets Thursday night to motorists parked "against the free flow of traffic," Mayor Fred P. Lawrence said "it's quite obvious" the sudden one-man enforcement was linked to the fact the municipal election is only four days away.

Patrolman Paul Carter issued the 53 tickets, mostly in residential areas, to motorists who left their autos parked so that they were headed in the direction opposite from the flow of traffic in the adjoining lane. Such parking is a violation both under city ordinances and state laws.

The mayor was asked first if the administration had issued any specific instructions to the police department that brought about the sudden crackdown on "wrong way" parking.

"No," Lawrence replied. "We expect the officers to enforce the law, but not to the point where it is unreasonable."

Next, reporters asked: "In your opinion, is there any connection between this sudden enforcement and the fact the election is only a few days away?"

Other area officials have said Phillis is doing the best he can at the home with the limited facilities available.

Both Miss McLaughlin and Phillis were placed under oath yesterday during the conference with the commissioners about whether she had been discharged.

Miss McLaughlin said afterward she is not working at the County Home any more. "I am not sure if I was fired or not, but I did leave the home when I was ordered to scrub the floors by Supt. Phillis."

Commissioner Max Gard, chairman, said, "We are now going backwards in the operation of the home by again not having a nurse at the hospital." Commissioner Walter Hunston of East Palestine said he not taking sides in the issue.

Gard, asked about the commissioners' authority over the superintendent, said regulations provide the superintendent, appointed by the commissioners, has the authority to operate the home, to hire and to discharge employees.

'Quite Obvious,' Mayor Says

Carter Tags 53 Autoists; Lawrence Hints 'Politics'

"I think it's quite obvious there's a connection between the two," the mayor replied.

"In view of the recent cases of vandalism, I think it would have been in the line of good law enforcement to devote more time to preventing destruction of property."

Ticketed motorists are required to settle parking fines at the "Meter Maid" office at City Hall.

The women parking attendants said only three of the "wrong-way" tickets had been settled by 10 this morning. All of the drivers paid their forfeits without comment, they said.

There was another wave of tickets for "wrong way" parking during snowy weather last winter. Motorists who reside on hillside streets complained that they could not get their cars away from the curb if they parked headed uphill, complying with the law.

That brought an administrative order that eliminated the "wrong way" ticketing during months when streets were liable to be slippery.

Mayor Lawrence later issued a

'Early Ballots' Issued To 309 By Vote Board

Total Seen Average In Off-Year Voting, O'Hanlon Comments

A total of 309 civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the general election Tuesday was issued by the Columbiana County Election Board before the deadline Thursday at 4 p. m., a demand that is "about average for an off-year election," according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk.

The civilian ballots must be returned to the board's office by noon today if they're to be counted at the polls Tuesday. By mid-morning, all except 21 had been returned.

Meanwhile, the board also has issued 24 ballots under the Ohio "soldier voting" law for servicemen and civilians residing temporarily outside the United States—mostly dependents of members of the armed forces or employees of the federal government.

Servicemen have until noon election day to return the ballots. The so-called "soldier ballots" may be issued until noon Saturday.

The board issued a total of 576 ballots in the 1958 general election, when state offices and some county posts were at stake. The voters returned 527 of the ballots before the deadline.

The Election Board's staff worked until 1 a. m. today at the Courthouse in Lisbon, packing into individual suitcases the supplies and ballots that will be distributed for precincts in the northern county area. On Wednesday night, the board worked until midnight at its office in East Liverpool, packing supplies for the southern county area.

Presiding judges in the northern county area will call for supplies Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon at the Courthouse. East Liverpool voting supplies will be distributed Monday from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the board's office on W. 6th St. Those for the Wellsville area will be handed out Monday at 6:45 p. m. at Wellsville City Hall.

Born in Sandyville, W. Va., March 18, 1887, he was the son of the late Stephen and Jane Murphy Gorrell. He resided for many years in the rural area on Route 39, near Highlandtown, and also lived in East Liverpool for some years before moving to Wellsville 43 years ago.

He retired in 1948 after 30 years service with the railroad. He was a member of Elks Lodge 1040 of Wellsville and attended the former First Presbyterian Church.

He is survived by a son, William E. Gorrell of Wellsville R. D.; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Jane Unger of East Liverpool and Mrs. Gwendolyn E. Yost of Wellsville R. D.; four brothers, Chancy Gorrell and John Gorrell, both of Ravenswood, W. Va.; James Gorrell of Akron, and Ray Gorrell of New Brighton; a sister, Mrs. Clara Willett of New Springfield, and three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and night. The Elks will hold services Sunday night at 8 at the funeral home.

He leaves four sons, Roy Jackson, Arthur Jackson, and John Jackson, all of Aliquippa, and Dr. J. Garrett Jackson of Orlando, Fla.; a brother, Robert Jackson of Canton; two sisters, Mrs. Florence Menough of Wellsville and Mrs. Eva Tice of St. Petersburg, Fla.; and four grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Trustees Vote Against Bonds

LISBON — Endorsement of a proposed bond issue for a new County Home was turned down by the Columbiana County Trustees and Clerks Association Thursday night in a 37-4 vote.

At a meeting at St. George's Catholic Church Parish Hall, a discussion was held on the home and the $989,000 bond issue.

John Coie of Elkrum Township said he visited the home during the summer and felt a new home was needed. But since then, he visited it again, and found certain conditions which should have been corrected but had not.

Coie said he felt a new home would not be any better maintained.

Simon Hall, Liverpool Township clerk, said county voters should do something about the conditions at the home, and the trustees and clerks have an obligation to see that efforts for improvement were made.

J. E. Hinchliffe of Center Township said he doesn't think the home is any different now that it has been for a number of years.

Tickets

statement summing up the administration's feelings and warning that the officer might issue more "wrong-way" tickets later. It reads:

"It has been the policy of the administration in the last year and that of the police department, in view of the hills and the residential areas in town and the sudden changes in the weather that come about at this time of year, to not strictly enforce the ordinance against counter-flow parking.

"Patrolman Carter is technically correct in his enforcement of the ordinance and therefore he cannot be censured. However, coming shortly before election time as it does, it seems to be a case of being overly zealous on the part of Patrolman Carter on technical violations of the law.

"Instead of spending so much time in writing traffic tickets of this nature Patrolman Carter's time could better be used to curb vandalism. This obviously has been an attempt to embarrass the administration in seeking re-election on next Tuesday.

"However, since the election is several days away the citizens are cautioned that further attempts may be made by Patrolman Carter so that the citizens are cautioned to observe all parking regulations during the next several days."

Campaign Set By Sport Club

Plans to launch a membership drive early in 1960 were discussed when the Hancock County Fishermen's Club at Pughtown met here Thursday night.

Harl Stover and James Arehart are co-chairmen for the drive. The goal is 700 members and insignias will be purchased and distributed.

Stover said plans are underway to stage a fish fry and dance as an activity of the campaign.

A letter was read from Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., 1st District congressman, assuring the club that a stream at Tomlinson Run State Park would not be drained and the fish poisoned, such as occurred during a re-stocking project about five years ago.

"Nothing like that will happen while I am in office," the congressman told the club in his letter.

Melvin Beatty, president, presided. Twelve attended. The next meeting is Nov. 12 in the Union Hall of New Cumberland.

Quarter-Cent Hike Due For Natural Gas Rate

Higher cost of natural gas from suppliers will result in an increase of one-fourth of a cent a 1,000 cubic feet in the gas rate in East Liverpool, the Ohio Valley Gas Co. announced today.

Increases, effective Dec. 1, also will change gas rates in 20 other Eastern Ohio communities in the Steubenville Division of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. under provisions of their fuel cost clauses.

LISBON — Natural gas rates here and in Columbiana and Salem will be raised half a cent per 1,000 cubic feet Dec. 1, the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. announced today at Columbus, under provisions of fuel cost clauses in those communities and 107 others in the state served by the utility. Summitville's increase will be one cent per thousand.

Another 'New' Prank: Crossed Spark Wires

Although it's a Halloween prank their fathers used 25 years ago, it's new to the current generation of goblins — crossing the spark plug wires of autos so that the motor runs erratically.

Several motorists reported they were victims of the "new" prank and feared at first the motors in their cars had gone haywire. Disconnecting the spark wires and then hooking them up again haphazardly produces loud blasts through the muffler because of the fouled-up firing order of the engine.

Meanwhile, police said more reports were received Thursday night of pranksters cutting television lead-in wires to make householders believe their sets suddenly went out of action. About a dozen cases of wire-cutting were reported Wednesday night and there was another wave of complaints last night, police said.

Vote 'Yes' On The City Income Tax

A city income tax will be one of the most important issues facing East Liverpool's voters at the polls next Tuesday.

Such a tax is not new here, having been paid from May 1938 until November 1938 when it was thrown out after repeal action received an overwhelming vote.

The arguments for the tax are just as logical and just as valid today as they were in 1938. The big objection to it, however, has lost much of its thunder in view of the way the matter was approached this time in contrast to the previous effort.

Last November, the major complaint — one that stirred vociferous opposition — was that the tax had been crammed down the people's throat. This because Council had set up the levy under emergency legislation and the city had launched collections without a vote of the people — which, it should be explained, was perfectly legal under state law. The protests were bitter, loud and many. Apparently motivated by anger over the manner followed in applying the tax and for several other beneath-the-surface reasons—which since also seem to have disappeared—the people voted convincingly for appeal.

RESPECTING THEIR wishes, Council and the administration adopted a different approach in moving toward return of the levy. This time the tax legislation was passed on three readings by Council, removing the emergency clause and leaving the measure open to referendum. Such referendum action followed. The people themselves, therefore, will be the controlling force in the present measure.

Not one penny of tax money has been collected and not one penny can be unless the majority of East Liverpool voters give their approval. There is no cramming of the levy down anyone's throat.

The Review feels—as it did in November of 1938—that if the income tax is approved East Liverpool's future will be a bright, progressive one.

We have a sound and efficient administration in City Hall and we have been making gains. These gains, however, could be greater and more impressive were there more money available with which to start doing the many things that need to be done. The city income tax will supply this money if it wins approval Tuesday.

The Review had this to say editorially last November: "Were the money to be frittered away because of mismanagement, the question of entrusting it to a group of municipal officials could be questioned."

But both Fred P. Lawrence and Bert H. Goodballet leave little fear in this respect. Mr. Lawrence has demonstrated by action that his administration will use the tax money to the city's best advantage. There is every reason to believe that Mr. Goodballet's administration would do likewise should he be elected mayor.

THE STEEL STRIKE could be an untimely factor in Tuesday's voting. People who have been out of work for weeks generally aren't prone to shoulder themselves with more taxes. If they analyze the situation, however, the very nature of the city income tax overcomes any such objections that may be raised in that direction.

If you're not working, you pay nothing. If you are working, you pay such a small amount that you scarcely will realize that it has been taken from your check. And for what you will receive in return in the way of municipal improvements and progress the dividends from your investment will be many.

The tax has been reduced this time, too. It will take only 60 cents of each $100 of income compared with 80 cents per $100 in 1938. The figure is based on the six-tenths of one per cent provided in the legislation passed by Council.

Forget politics when you vote Tuesday. Republicans and Democrats alike will benefit from the money that would be provided. This is a community not a party matter. East Liverpool needs the tax badly!

We are confident that the people of East Liverpool will accept their responsibility and approve the city income tax.

Aviation Is Here To Stay

A resolution favoring a quieter jet engine was adopted last week by the Airport Operators Council, representing many of the country's largest cities. If it means that operators are sensitive to public rights — and they have to be in view of complaints about noise — the public can feel more hopeful about the future.

The nuisance of unbearably unpleasant airplane noise is not the inevitable price of aerial progress. Granted that military planes must remain a rule unto themselves and not be restricted, even the growing frequency of sonic booming over cities may not have to be accepted as a way of life in the years to come.

Aviation is here to stay and grow and get used to. But human beings were here to stay and get used to before the Wright brothers ever got their contraption off the ground. Operators of airports cannot shrug off complaints about noise nuisance, nor can politicians. There are more groundings than birdmen, more people made unhappy by loud noise than people who think loud noise, itself, is evidence of progress.

Quieter jet engines are possible. Stricter rules about airplane noise are on the way. The price of progress in the air age is not inevitably the shriek of a jet engine, the boom of supersonic flight over populated places, or the teeth-rattling roar of heavily loaded planes struggling for altitude over cities whose inhabitants are trying to stay asleep.

The Once Over

An injunction decision many folks would like to see: In this case of the U.S.A. versus the Steel Crisis this court holds Uncle Sam entitled to the relief prayed for. It hereby decides in favor of patience, a recess in North Pole glares and 80 days for stiffening by both sides. Anybody who can't cool off in 80 days ain't trying (McGoffie vs. Stegins, Conn., 1932). There is nothing in such a situation that can't be cured by a willingness of both parties to bend a little, admit there are two sides to every question and cut the "You can't do this to me" attitude (Winterbottom vs. Higgins, Nevada 1898).

Such a strike imperils the health, welfare, patience and blood pressure of the nation. No people can feel healthy when the country is in a hole or be well off when great segments of labor - management are in a lather. (Furbisher vs. Goggins, Arizona, 1945).

IT IS ADMITTED by the court that the Taft-Hartley Act can at times seem less effective than the Smith & Dale Act, the Olsen & Johnson Act or the Gallagher-Sheen Act, but it can modify stubbornness, stop arguments and offer hope (Chillingsworth vs. Steuben, N.J., 1952).

Who knows what can happen in 80 days? Mr. MacDonald may be caught smiling and Conrad Cooper or Roger Blough may show a flash of good humor on TV. In any national crisis there is nothing like the pause that refreshes (Biffle vs. Brown, Calif., 1935).

Regardless of right or wrong, the privilege of tying up the United States of America and making it tough for innocent bystanders is not in the best interests of Mr. and Mrs. America.

Jules Verne and Mike Todd did wonders to 80 days. Management and labor should do as well.

In a nutshell this is a decision supporting the idea that the boss and the worker can co-exist and that they don't look at their best imitating a long-run pro - wrestling show.

The court finds that the strike left Uncle Sam looking helpless and futile. His whiskers seemed to hide a receding chin and his eyes took on a Ben Turpin aspect. He deserves a break and is bigger than both of you (Spindleblutz vs. Twitchell, Ohio, 1926).

Back to work, boys, and may you get together before Christmas to prove that both labor and management know nothing is gained by shooting Santa Claus.

A BRITISH CLUB has voted installment plan fox hunting. Good! We have always wanted to follow the hounds on time payments and will go for it in a big way when we can make the jumps by credit card. But we pity the fox.

ALL TIBET ASKED was that U.N. listen to its pathetic plight and perhaps pass a resolution. But 26 nations remained on the fence, abstaining from even a show of minor interest. This makes highly important an early U.N. debate on the question "Are we men or mice?" Evidently 26 nations have the theme song "You Haven't Got to HAVE HEARTS."

"Fiorello," the new musical on the road, has the late Mayor LaGuardia as its subject, but it only takes him from the first World War up to his first election as burgomaster of Gotham. Fiorello was at his most dynamic, colorful and entertaining when in that office, taking on all opponents, jumping into every hectic issue and displaying a yen to do anything from abolishing all opponents and changing Gulf Stream to rebuilding New York and pitching for the Yankees in a World Series.

Odd Facts

The modern miracle of the atom dates, for practical purposes from Roentgen's discovery of X-rays in 1895, and Becquerel's accidental discovery of mysterious rays in the following year. The French scientist had placed some photographic plates, sealed in black paper, in a cardboard box, in a drawer that happened to contain a piece of uranium. Later, when he examined the plates, he was astonished to find that something had affected them, although no daylight had entered. Only rays from the uranium could have done this — and this, then, was radioactivity.

In an area near Anchorage, Alaska, motorists often are compelled to yield the right-of-way to airplanes. Here the highway bisects a landing field, and motorists often have to stop their cars while planes trundle to-and-fro across the road. Alaska is an extremely air - minded state, there being in Anchorage alone a ratio of one small airplane for every 130 persons.

The misnomer, "Irish potato," originated because the Irish were the first Europeans to recognize the potato as a staple food product. The potato apparently originated along the Pacific coast of South America where it was under cultivation for centuries before the white man discovered it.

Elder Kaiser Calls The Shots

By Victor Riesel

GOLDEN WROTE the book, "The Dynamics of Industrial Democracy" with Harold Ruttenberg, then also a Steel Union official. The book calls for a high standard of union leadership. It also says that workers organize "not alone for economic motives but also for equally compelling social and psychological ones."

In effect, this would mean a greater share in the management, the benefits and profits on industry. Operating on this theory, the Kaiser committee will try to develop a permanent pattern which will apply to all labor-management quarrels. Each will get a bigger share of the profits and, therefore, the public must, too.

In Kaiser's case, he wants the solution to include the public by holding down steel prices even if other firms raise them or cutting steel prices when other firms hold still.

That would be news, indeed.

Why All The Blood?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON If Fidel Castro is earnest about wanting a democratic Cuba, then why all the blood?

Prime Minister Castro has been in effect dictator since his rebel army last New Year's Day threw out Fulgencio Batista's dictatorship and took over.

He has called for land reforms, probably badly needed, and other social changes. But Cuba is in growing turmoil. Criticism of his regime is rising.

He was an inspired rebel military leader but now gives the impression of a man too emotional, chaotic and disorganized to run a government.

As the heat increases, he thinks of vengeance. He calls for death for his enemies by firing squads and depends not on ballots but on mobs for support.

His government suspended Congress Jan. 6, put off new elections for 18 to 24 months, suspended criminal courts, and through military courts, rolled up 555 executions by firing squads.

Yet he said Cuba will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law."

The firing squads worked for months, were finally stopped. But his troubles continued. This week he summoned 250,000 Cubans to a rally in Havana.

He outdid Hollywood by arriving in a helicopter, gun in hand, denounced the United States and asked the mob for approval for new firing squads. He got it.

This was reminiscent of last January when the firing squad execution of so-called war criminals was being severely criticized abroad and he called together a rally of a million Cubans to approve what he was doing to his enemies.

His idea of justice was to try a foe in a sports stadium, with not a single witness appearing in his defense, before 18,000 people. The crowd included American newspapermen his government invited down to see the spectacle.

This was what happened in the case of Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, who had directed Batista's army operations against Castro. There was never any doubt of the outcome: the major was sentenced to death before a firing squad.

When Castro addresses a mob he harangues, he screams, he appeals to hate in a way Hitler or Mussolini might have found refreshing.

He denies he is a Communist but turns with fury on any who say he is or complain that Communists are infiltrating his government. He has done this three times to men once close to him.

On Oct. 19 Maj. Hubert Matos, one of Castro's most respected revolutionary leaders, resigned as commander of Camaguey province, charging the Castro regime was being penetrated by Communists.

Castro had him arrested and before Monday night's mob virtually signed the major's death warrant by asking approval for Matos' execution by a firing squad. He responded: "Firing squads! Firing squads!"

On July 13 Manuel Urrutia, Castro's handpicked president, blasted Cuban Communists although declaring Castro's government "has absolutely nothing to do with Communists." Why this threat Castro into an emotional spin is not clear. But it did. He accused Urrutia of "near treason."

On July 17 Castro denounced Urrutia on television and, in a play for mob support against the President, resigned as prime minister. A few hours later Urrutia resigned. Then Castro went back as prime minister.

The most sensational case was that of Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, who resigned June 30 as Cuban air force chief, fled to the United States, and told a Senate committee Castro was a Communist. Cuban officials called him a liar.

On Oct. 19 — the same day Matos resigned — Havana was plastered with leaflets from a plane flying over Havana. This was the latest of several similar leaflet air drops.

The former air force chief several days ago told U.S. authorities he had piloted an unarmed aircraft over Havana last Wednesday. Later he publicly denied this statement. He is in the United States.

These various episodes so inflamed Castro that at Monday's rally he denounced the United States. The U. S. State Department protested in a stiff reply. The episode of the plane put this country in an embarrassing fix.

But Castro didn't gain anything, except mob approval, for his performance. The net result: tattered relations between Cuba and the United States.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Richard Brown was elected president of the Senior High School Class at Chester.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Fred Luddington of Salem was elected chief de gar of Columbiana County Voture 27, 40 and 8 Society.

The Mackintosh-Hemphill Co. of Midland received its second award for a record of no lost-time accidents for a period of one year.

TEN YEARS AGO — Six officers volunteered to work without pay to police the infantile paralysis benefit football game at Patterson Field.

Twenty members of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, were presented 25-year pins.

Members of the Taft School Association voted to purchase fluorescent lights for the fifth grade.

A jet engine works when air is drawn into the engine, compressed, heated and expanded to a tremendous pressure, and released in spurts. It is not, however, the pressure of the released air against the outside air that pushes a jet plane forward — but rather the forward pressure of the air remaining inside the engine. When a spurt of air is released at the rear of the engine, the pressure in that direction is momentarily weakened and the forward pressure, being stronger, forces the plane forward.

Wishful Thinking

By David Lawrence

Steel Outlook Is Far From Encouraging

There's a lot of wishful thinking about the prospect of an early settlement of the steel strike, especially after a court injunction eventually does order the men back to work but the outlook is far from encouraging.

For one thing, the 11 major companies are more determined than ever that the costly investment they have made in the basic issues of the strike shall not be in vain.

The settlement made by the Kaiser steel mills and the small company in Detroit doesn't in the slightest degree affect the outcome.

Indeed, what the Kaiser interests settled for—which has been announced as a 10 per cent increase in its costs—would amount to a 17 per cent increase in the case of the other major steel companies, according to their spokesmen.

This is because of various differences in the setup of the Kaiser companies in California as compared with the other major companies.

A canvass of the position of the 11 companies shows that they do not feel in the least disturbed by the "aiser settlement and do not think it warrants the inferences that have been drawn by those who have said a breakup in the solid front of the Eastern and Middle Western companies is at hand.

There have been some significant goings on in the last few days. A reported change in sentiment among the workers is being widely discussed.

MANY OF THE STRIKERS are believed to feel that their leader, David McDonald, made a tactical error in fighting the injunction by insisting on a stay of the order.

An appeal on the merits could readily have been made, just the same, it is declared, without depriving the workers of the pay they would have received for going back to work immediately after the lower court last week issued its first order granting the injunction.

The point is being made that since it was inevitable that the injunction would eventually be sustained, it was a waste of the workers' wages to keep them from going back to their jobs this week.

Also, in Washington, the union is believed to have lost ground by delaying the day on which the injunction would become effective.

The government is determined to have steel production resumed. It considers that an emergency has arisen.

The tactics of delay by the union are regarded in administration circles as unnecessary and as strengthening the belief that the union leaders would recklessly disregard the public interest and prolong the strike.

It is indicated among those who are well informed about the position of the 11 major companies that they will not alter their attitude and that unless in the next few days the proposal recently made by the companies is accepted, there will be a nationwide campaign carried on to inform the workers of just what the companies have really offered.

The idea is to persuade the strikers to vote in favor of the "last offer."

THIS PROCEDURE, which necessitates a secret ballot, is authorized under the Taft - Hartley Act during the time the 80-day injunction is in force.

Many steel company men express confidence privately that the workers will not turn down the steel companies' proposal when they learn what it actually means to them in dollars and cents.

If the company offer is turned down, however, the prospect is that the strike will be resumed. For the employer group is adamant that it cannot allow its cost to rise without producing an inflationary spiral.

The President's Board of Inquiry will attempt, to be sure, to bring about a negotiated settlement before the matter is put to a vote of the workers. It is to the interest of the union leaders to try to get such a result in the next few days so as to make the secret ballot procedure unnecessary.

The steel companies insist that their latest offer is equivalent to an increase of 2.6 per cent in productivity and this, according to Department of Labor data, is about the same as the national average for the last two years in industry generally.

ON THE UNION SIDE there is still hope that the employer bloc will break up and then offer further concessions, but there is not the slightest basis for such action, according to information from the companies.

All the theorizing that has been done as to what might have been accomplished by an earlier intervention by the federal government with presidential boards to do fact finding or make recommendations is part of the wishful thinking about the steel strike that has been rebuffed by the true facts as revealed by the attitude of the employers.

This is one strike in which the stakes are high and the steel companies, faced by foreign competition and consumer resistance to prices, feel they just cannot go beyond the increases in pay now offered unless justified in the future by increased productivity and efficiency.

That's where the much talked about working rules become the real key to a settlement. If economies can be effected by efficiency and the introduction of new machinery, these savings will be passed on to the workers in the form of increased wages in the next three years.

Letters To The Editor

I am writing this letter in an effort to help our fair city to still have our wonderful hospital.

I have been a patient there four times in the last 12 years and know the wonderful blessing it is to us. The complete staff is made up of wonderful people, kind, gentle and attentive in every way. We have a fine lot of doctors also.

My visits have been both short and long, but I always found them the same gentle folk from start to finish. I know it is the same with others as it is with myself. When all is well with us we never think of sickness ever striking us, but eventually it does.

And in emergencies we are sent to the hospital. If we didn't have one in our town we would have to go elsewhere. And the long trip could prove fatal. So I am writing this as a request made of me to see my friends and neighbors and ask them to vote for the hospital levy.

As I am unable to get around, I have taken this plan to reach many more people. I am not able to go to the polls on Election Day to vote, but if I was able I would gladly vote for the hospital levy. Some say it will keep up our taxes. Probably so.

But if in an emergency there was no hospital, then what? Please think it over folks and vote for the hospital levy.

Facts for the voter to consider before deciding the proposed bond issue for the County Home:

The bond issue is for $989,000. With 122 inmates at the home, this represents a $24,000 home for every three people now in the institution.

It is a letter sent out to clubs by the County Commissioners, they said $35,000 would have to be spent to meet state requirements for repairs, so they ask for almost a million dollars with a $49,450 fee for the architect.

Plans submitted to the public show the new home would have a dental office, medical doctor's office and examination room, an ear, nose and throat doctor's office, laboratory, physical therapy room, barber shop, beauty shop, coffee shop and last but not least, a mortuary.

These are the facts, Mr. Voter: make your own decision.

MRS. SHIRLEY OSSMAN

President of Women's Republican Club of Salem.

I am not much of a writer, but maybe you can get it across to the voter why he or she should get to the polls on Nov. 3 and cast a "yes" vote for the county home.

We are in dire need of one. They try to have nice schools and take great pride in raising the children, which is a very good thing. But they also must think of what they are going to do with them. After they have worked their 30 years they are done. Are they going to take them out in the country and drop them off at some farm house like they do with their cats and dogs. I hope not when $1.44 a year will save all that trouble. I wish to thank Frank Wilson and the rest of the commissioners for trying to do their duty.

New Home Hit By Farmers

LISBON — A group of Salem area farmers visited the County Home Thursday afternoon and later issued a statement they found the structures are sound and capable of being repaired, adding they are opposed to proposed construction of a new home.

Richard Stamp of Butler Township, spokesman for the group, said they are against demolition of the over 90-year-old buildings which "have good foundations and are straight as a die but very much in need of proper maintenance."

The farmers said they are against the proposed $989,000 bond issue on the ballots for Tuesday's election to build a modern home.

Stamp said the present home also could be almost entirely self-supporting as far as food is concerned. The men declared they are opposed to "getting rid of the dairy herd at the home farm," stating purchase of a pasteurizing machine and cooler would enable the home to utilize the herd's milk instead of selling the raw milk and buying pasteurized milk.

Wallover, who is the club's community service chairman, pointed out what the Rotary can do to influence a better community. He cited improvements in a community by people who may not be Rotarians but have the Rotary spirit, in street lighting, schools, libraries, churches, city government and others.

New Benefits For Jobless

This is the fifth of a series of articles, prepared for The Review by the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC), outlining the principal changes in Ohio's Unemployment Compensation Law.

Although the benefit rights of an unemployed worker may be determined by the Bureau together with the amount of his weekly benefit, his total benefits, and his dependency allowance, he still cannot receive benefits for any week of unemployment until the Bureau has also determined the reason for his unemployment.

The law provides that when a claimant is separated from his most recent employment for a disqualifying reason such as a quit or discharge, his benefit rights shall be suspended for the duration of his unemployment. This often leads the claimant to ask:

Q. What is meant by "suspension of benefits?"

A. Suspension of benefits for the duration of the claimant's unemployment means that he will not receive benefits until he has (1) secured a job in covered employment; (2) earned wages equal to his weekly benefit amount; and (3) been separated from this employment for a nondisqualifying reason such as "lack of work."

Q. What are the causes for suspension of benefits?

A. Benefits are suspended for the following reasons: Quit without just cause or discharge with just cause in connection with claimant's work, quit to marry, or because of marital, parental, or filial obligations; refusal of an offer of suitable work or failure to investigate a referral to work by the Employment Service; advocating the overthrow of our government by force; making a false statement to obtain benefits; commitment to a penal institution.

In those cases where the claimant has been discharged for dishonesty, either admitted or proved in court of record, his benefits are suspended for the duration of his unemployment and all base period wages paid by that employer are canceled.

Formula Set For City Share In Road Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A new highway cost assessment formula will aid smaller Ohio cities and villages, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle announced Thursday.

A Highway Department directive revises the formula by which villages and cities of less than 100,000 population are charged for highway projects.

Major construction, interstate projects, resurfacing and bridge repair are included in the new rates.

The latest policy assesses cities of 5,001 to 21,000 population five per cent for major construction, including federal aid projects in municipalities. Other rates: 21,001 to 42,000 pay 10 per cent; 42,001 to 100,000 15 per cent, and over 100,000, 25 per cent.

The old formula assessed cities under 38,000 the cost of plans plus five per cent of remaining project costs. Other rates were: 38,000 to 100,000, 15 per cent, and over 100,000, 25 per cent.

The new population groupings are based on Ohio Department of Health census estimates.

The new formula for resurfacing is: 5,001 to 21,000, 20 per cent; 21,001 to 42,000, 30 per cent; 42,001 to 100,000, 40 per cent, and over 100,000, 50 per cent. The previous breakdown was 5,000 to 15,000, 20 per cent; 15,000 to 50,000, 35 per cent, and more than 50,000, 50 per cent.

The state, city and county all will share in bridge repair. The formula is the same as in major construction with counties paying 25 per cent in all cases and the state the remainder.

The villages' cost of sharing in the various categories was also set. Here it is based on funds available from the 7½ per cent revenues from gasoline taxes and license fees.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Well, it happened again today, and I must write this letter and get this out of my system before I pop.

Another of my girl friends had her picture in the paper with the announcement that she was married secretly six months ago. I'll bet my life she'll have a baby within five months. All the girls pull this and I'm sick of it.

These so-called "fancy debs" live it up and when they get into trouble blithely announce they've been married several months. Then they have a "premature" baby (with hair 3 inches long) and everything is forgiven. They join clubs, hold offices and their mothers actually seem proud of them.

Does it pay to do the right thing when one girl after another pulls this stuff and in two weeks it all blows over? Please comment.

Holding Out

Dear Holding: Simmer down and use your head. What can these girls do but pretend everything is ginger-peachy and then pull a rinkydink with the dates? Do you suggest all pregnant brides wear yellow armbands or be shipped to the Island of Elba?

These girls (and their mothers) are well aware that people can count. They know, too, that when a "secret marriage" announcement is soon followed by maternity clothes on the girl, tongues are sure to start wagging.

Yes, it does pay to do the right thing, regardless of the expected manner in which the expectant brides conduct themselves. Don't be fooled by the smiling face they present to the world. They would have preferred it the other way.

Checking Is OK

Dear Ann: I'm embarrassed to write for advice at my age but something is bothering me and I would feel even more foolish asking someone in my social circle. I'm a widow in my 40s. A certain gentleman I've been seeing has a peculiarity which makes me uncomfortable. When the waiter brings the check he always puts on his reading glasses, takes a pencil from his pocket and adds it up.

Occasionally he finds an error and then he triumphantly points it out to the waiter. It's humiliating to me and I wonder if it's worth the few dollars. Shall I speak to him about this? — SILENT SUFFERER.

Dear Silent: People make mistakes and so do machines. There's nothing wrong with checking a bill and you should not be embarrassed because he's smart enough to do it. In fact, it's silly to hand out money without checking first.

If you haven't been going over your bills before paying them, it's time you started.

Get Hat And Go

Dear Ann: My wife's folks live four blocks away. They are lovely people but they have one big fault that drives me nuts. At least twice a week they walk over with their company.

If someone drops in on them they bring them over to our house. It's easier to haul their guests to our place than to entertain them.

Frequently we've had to change our plans so as not to appear rude. Frankly I'm sick of it. There's never an advance phone call. They just show up. Please tell us what we should do, short of insulting them. They are really swell people and have been terrific to us. — SANDY.

Dear Sandy: This is now a habit which must be broken. The next time they appear with guests say, "We were just going out—so sorry." Then get your hats and coats and GO OUT—even if it's to a drug store for a package of gum.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Special Squad Investigates Looting By Columbus Police

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A special squad of investigators is probing reports of looting by uniformed officers following Thursday's arrest of two Columbus policemen.

Patrolmen William E. Clifford and William B. Russell were nabbed for investigation of grand larceny.

Police Chief George W. Scholer said details of the probe would be withheld until investigation is completed.

Russell and two civilians were arrested early Thursday in a Columbus drug store. Scholer said the trio was photographed before a five-man stake-out squad moved in.

The civilians, Donald Tuggle, 30, and William McFarland, 21, and Russell were stuffing their pockets with merchandise when apprehended, the chief said.

Clifford was arrested later at police headquarters.

Police said they are seeking two other men for investigation. They were not identified.

Scholer said bluntly that any man involved will be treated as a common criminal. Top officers were visibly shaken and angered by developments in the probe.

Investigators checked the officers' homes and those of relatives Thursday for evidence. They confiscated aluminum storm doors, bags of grass seed, small appliances and other items but had not identified the property as being stolen.

Detectives said a check of the officers in the drug store area had been in progress for some time. Russell and Clifford worked the same trick in that area for several weeks, Scholer said.

Both Russell and Clifford have been on the force for some time—Russell four years and Clifford 11 years.

mands for higher wages and the industry's insistence on changes in the contract to give management more say in mill operations.

Steelworkers were earning an average of $3.11 an hour when the strike started.

The strike—longest nationwide dispute in the industry's history—has cost steelworkers more than a billion dollars in wages and steel companies at least four billion dollars in lost business.

In addition, some 325,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off. General Motors, the nation's largest auto manufacturer, announced it would halt all but a few scattered operations by tonight.

Steel shortages are growing critical throughout the nation.

3 Motorists Cited With Speed Timer

Three motorists were cited for speeding Thursday when police used radar timing equipment on St. Clair Ave. and W. 8th Sts.

Hearings are set Saturday morning at 9 in Municipal Court for Harley E. Reed of St. Clair Ave. and Wade S. Glass, 1574 Pennsylvania Ave.

Reed was cited at 10 a. m., accused of driving 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on St. Clair, and Glass was arrested at 11:32 a. m. for driving 37 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone on W. 8th.

Andrew Petrick of M. C. Route 19 is scheduled to appear Monday at 9 a. m. on a charge of driving 33 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on St. Clair.

Both Reed and Glass appeared before Judge George L. Brokaw this morning, but their cases were continued. Reed declined to enter a plea of either guilty or not guilty.

Meanwhile, Norman E. Butler of Box 162 was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to driving an auto with no tail light and no light illuminating the rear license plate. He was cited at 6:20 p. m. Thursday on E. 3rd St., police said.

City Preparations Made

Cancer Survey Will Begin Monday

Preparing to start work Monday on East Liverpool's part in a national survey to help uncover the causes of cancer, Mrs. Dorothy Harrison Horsley handed Mayor Fred P. Lawrence a copy of the confidential questionnaire which volunteers will use in interviews with 175 families.

Looking on are Mrs. Gertrude Reese, county co-ordinator of the survey; Dr. J. A. Fraser, medical advisor of the county chapter of the American Cancer Society and a district trustee of the state organization; Mrs. Edna Jones, president of the county ACS, and Mrs. May Hart, vice chairman of the local interviewing group, which is headed by Mrs. Horsley.

The survey, which will be made in eight other Columbiana County communities, is part of a national project to help uncover reasons for cancer. The same 175 families will be interviewed periodically for six years and the information will be analyzed by experts at American Cancer Society headquarters.

How Americans live, their occupations, personal habits, family backgrounds and medical histories — these and many other diverse factors will be explored and evaluated to help determine why some people may be more likely to get cancer than others. The interview crew emphasized that all information will be kept confidential.

1939 ...Even a Millionaire Couldn't Buy It
1959 ...YOURS for a Few Pennies Each

Many of today's prescriptions call for drugs that were unknown 20 years ago—even as recently as five years ago. The first tiny quantities of the wonder drugs when produced in laboratory test tubes represent the investment of millions of dollars in research. Soon, however, the American genius for production makes these new discoveries available to all at a few pennies a dose. Even a millionaire cannot buy better medicine than we are prepared to supply to your doctor's prescription—at reasonable prices.

Library's New Books Throw Spotlight On Oriental Nations

When the Chinese moved into Tibet they brought their chopsticks but no rice. Lowell Thomas Jr., who visited this remote land with his father in 1950, has made a study of how Tibetans reacted to foreign occupation.

A great deal of their resentment is due to the raiding of their food stocks by the Chinese, but in recent years there has been more and more encroachment on their religious independence.

"Silent War In Tibet" is among new books at the Carnegie Public Library and Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said both text and pictures are compelling.

L. A. Waddell has revised his manual on "Lamaism of Tibet." He gives a great deal of detail about the various orders of monks.

Dr. Leonard S. Kenworthy, a Quaker official and professor at Brooklyn College, presents character sketches of Oriental leaders with whom he has worked. His "Leaders of New Nations" includes studies of Ben Gurion, Nkrumah, Magasaysay, Nehru, Nasser and nine others. Approaching the Orient in a lighter vein is Emily Hahn who recounts her exploits with maharajahs in "The Tiger House Party."

Three contemporary novels by experienced novelists insure some happy hours for those who prefer to read about life today. William P. McGivern locates his new novel, "Savage Streets", in the suburbs. The strange and haunting romance of two world famous people, a British atomic scientist and a Corsican concert pianist, is the ingredient for a lively plot. Evelyn Eaton is the author of this one—"I Saw My Mortal Sight." Arnold Haggood times his new yarn for 1963 and spins a fine tale about a power-driven industrial monster of the South in "Deep Is the Shadow."

An American actress shipwrecked on a South Sea island finds that it is inhabited by a Godlike man and woman intent on ruling according to their own laws. This exotic novel is chuck full of suspense—the author, Paul I. Wellman, and the title, "The Feiry Flower." "The Greek of Toledo" is a romantic narrative about the great painter, El Greco. Its author is Elizabeth Borton de Trevino.

The new book shelf boasts two outstanding biographies: Ralph L. Curry does a profile of "Stephen Leacock"—a great paradox who was born in England, moved to Canada and wrote American humor. James Roosevelt has written a life of his father, "Affectionately F.D.R.", in which he describes him as a lonely man.

Pictorial volumes which add both spice, humor, and information complete the recent additions to the library. "Better Football for Boys", by David C. Cooke; "Small Homes In the New Tradition", by Francois Morand, and two cartoon narratives, "Eloise in Moscow" by Kay Thompson, with drawings by Hilary Knight, and "The Millionaires" by Bob Gill and Alastair Reid.

Shirley Jackson has chosen the perfect title for her current suspense novel, "The Haunting of Hill House" deals with ghostly phenomena, though not about Halloween.

2 Boys Convicted On Murder Count

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two teenage Cincinnati youths were convicted of first-degree murder here Thursday night. One will be sentenced to die in the electric chair, the other to life imprisonment.

A three-judge court convicted Huston Nelson, 17, in the holdup shooting last Feb. 9 of Mrs. Bernice Wilson, 61, a drug store operator. The judges did not recommend mercy, which makes the death sentence mandatory.

Several hours later, a jury of four men and eight women convicted Charles Bell, 16, in the same case but recommended mercy, which makes a life sentence mandatory.

Nelson was tried earlier this month but the judges deferred announcing their verdict until the Bell case had gone to the jury.

Fire Chief Issues Precautions In Use Of Heating Appliances

Now is the time to make sure that heating appliances are in good condition for use in cold weather. Fire Chief Charles Bryan reminded householders today.

"Ordinary precautions and common sense will prevent almost all home accidents involving heating appliances," Chief Bryan said. He suggests that furnaces, water heaters, incinerators and room heaters be checked for adequate ventilation proper adjustment and safe connections.

For any heating appliance to operate safely and to its full capacity, it must have ventilation, Chief Bryan explained. Burning any fuel without a good fresh air supply can produce carbon monoxide. Vents carry away the products of combustion, therefore they should be checked regularly.

Chief Bryan outlined the following check-list to insure the best and safest use from equipment:

- 1—See that the heater is vented to a good chimney.
- 2—See that there is a cleanout opening with cap in the chimney under the vent (stove pipe).

3—See that the chimney is clean. One way is to blow smoke into the clean-out opening to make sure it is drawing.

4—See that the vent goes "up hill" from the heater to the chimney.

5—Use a safety thimble to keep the pipe from going too far into the chimney and seal around the pipe where it enters the chimney with cement or plaster.

6—See that there is some outside fresh air to the space where the heater is located.

7—Have a qualified, licensed installer connect and adjust your heater.

Chief Bryan cautioned against using cook stoves for room heating.

"Finally," Chief Bryan emphasized, "don't neglect calling an authorized repairman if you suspect that your heating equipment is not working properly, or if you smell fumes. It may cost a few dollars but it may save your life."

Kiwanis Speaker Cites Newspaper Role In Freedom

The role of newspapers in mirroring and protecting the American democratic way of life was outlined by C. V. Hughes, business manager of the Review, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Speaking on "Your Newspaper—Freedom's Textbook," Hughes read a American Newspaper Publishers Association description of the part news media play in maintaining the nation's three chief freedoms—speech, press and religion.

He also pointed to the important part newspapers have in advertising which has helped raise the nation's standard of living by moving goods and services to customers.

He was introduced by H. J. English. About 40 attended the luncheon at which Rowland Kaufman, president, was in charge.

Why all the red tape?

You can understand why we don't sell narcotics without a physician's prescription. But maybe you've wondered why we're so fussy about other things... like penicillin, sleeping pills, the new tranquilizers. These potent medications are called "legend drugs" and you have to have a prescription to get them. Reason: Uncontrolled use may do more harm than good. Only your physician knows whether you should use them or not—and, if so, just how much. So we require a prescription. It's a matter of professional ethics and the law. Always sit's common sense.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Advertisers Cited For TV's Low Standards

It would have been a funny bit but it was out of "The Big Party" (CBS-TV 9:30-11 p.m. alternating with "Playhouse 90"). The idea was an opening with Greer Garson on the telephone. Underneath would appear the legend: "The telephone is really connected."

Later when a dog was seen reading a book ("He liked the movie and he wanted to read the book") another legend: "The dog really can read." Still later, when Mary Healy was imitating "Ethel Merman," another legend: "It's not Ethel Merman."

But television's sense of humor about itself is at low ebb at the moment—so the bit came out. "The Big Party," which I find a good show, an opinion not shared by just everyone, is already in big trouble.

ONE DIRECTOR, Norman Jewison, has left and there are other mummies of revolt against the brothers Revson who are running the show for Revlon with all the tact of a bull elephant.

One of the actors asked one of the brothers why they were interfering so egregiously in the program and was told: "If we wanted a show we couldn't interfere with, we'd have bought a filmed show."

The air waves in theory are public. They belong to you and me. But they have been thoroughly usurped by various advertisers and the philosophy that anything that is good for the product is good for the rest of the country. And even if it isn't good for us, it's their money so shut up.

I BRING THAT all up because in the wake of the quiz scandals there is the ever-recurring phrase (probably kept stirred by network publicists) of government censorship.

We must remind ourselves that already there is censorship of the air waves so complete, so blinding, so choking, so single-mindedly devoted to selling Flama Grande that no government body can make it worse.

What is needed is not further interference, it is government liberation. Never in all the history of commerce have artists had the hot breath of the manufacturers so hot on their necks.

Stop asking me what Flama Grande is, Junior. It's a flamenco dancer. They come two in the box and you can't have one till you're older.)

THE LATEST to put in his 2 cents worth is Sen. Jacob Javits who has said sensibly that the broadcasters had best avoid a situation that can lead to censorship.

"Under the licensing regulations which permit the individual stations to operate on these public frequencies, he said, 'they are now required to operate in the public interest rather than solely for pecuniary benefits. This standard, wisely applied, should be a sufficient guide for situations like the one which is now in the news.'"

The key phrase there is "wisely applied." Frankly, "the public interest" is not either wisely or unwisely applied, it is not applied at all. The fact that most of the big money quizzes were crooked thoroughly obscures the fact that wise application of any act of standards would have prevented all those quizzes getting on the air in the first place.

If the uproar had not arisen, there might now be 30 or 40 big money quizzes on the air pushing off the air drama programs, music, news, discussion, everything of worth.

ANY FOOL knows that 34 Westerns on the scarce evening hours of the networks is far too many Westerns. But who is doing anything about it?

Any fool knows that 65 cops and robbers shows is too many. Especially when you consider that there isn't a single serious live (or taped) weekly dramatic program on any network.

A few years ago we had a dozen hour-long dramatic shows. Today there is none.

So long as the advertiser had direct personal control over program, or direct ownership of programs, it's silly to talk about censorship. The censorship is already stifling.

The government should step in not to censor broadcasting but to free it. Not to keep things off the air but to help put back on the air what belongs there.

25,000 Teachers Meet In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — While their students took a holiday, some 25,000 school teachers gathered here today for the 90th annual meeting of the Northeast Ohio Teachers Assn. (NEOTA).

General meetings, a business session and more than 30 special meetings are scheduled for the one-day program.

Throughout the day, the teachers will vote for a NEOTA president to succeed W. M. Schall of Cleveland and John Adams High School. Candidates are Dr. Roger Shaw, professor of education at Kent State University, and Arthur Peebles, Cuyahoga Heights teacher.

Teachers attending today's meeting represent schools in 12 counties — Ashland, Ashtabula, Cuyahoga, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Mahoning, Medina, Portage, Richland, Summit and Trumbull.

In Canton, teachers from four counties which seceded from NEOTA last year will hold their meeting. The group, known as East Central Ohio Teachers Assn., represents teachers in Columbiana, Holmes, Stark and Wayne counties.

Auto Designer Dies

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Ernest Gray Davison, 77, automobile designer and British minister of supply for the London area during World War II, died Wednesday of a heart attack. He was born at Glasgow, Scotland.

Stark County Sheriff Dies

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—One of Ohio's best known sheriffs, Harry W. Grossglau, of Stark County, died of a heart attack Thursday night. He was 51.

Grossglau, who had suffered two previous heart attacks, was watching a bowling match in a Mahoning Road bowling alley when he slumped to the floor. Oxygen was administered but efforts to revive him failed. He was pronounced dead at Mercy Hospital.

A Republican, Grossglau was elected sheriff in 1949 and was serving his third term. Prior to that he served as a Stark County deputy sheriff and was one of the original patrolmen of the Ohio Highway Patrol.

He was a past president of the Buckeye Sheriffs' Assn. and was named the outstanding sheriff in Ohio by that group in 1954. At his death, he was a member of the National Sheriffs' Assn. board of governors.

Grossglau was a leader in getting standard uniforms and markings in Ohio sheriff's departments.

A native of New Straitsville, Perry County, he attended Marion Harding High School. His widow is the former Virginia Clark of Marion.

Free Emergency Service Proposed For Pike Autoists

CLEVELAND (AP) — Motorists using the Ohio Turnpike are entitled to free emergency service in event of mechanical breakdowns, the Cleveland Automobile Club maintains.

In a letter to the Ohio Turnpike Commission Thursday, the CAC pointed out that the New York Thruway Authority provides limited free emergency service.

A motorist using the Ohio toll road "is a captive and in case of breakdown is left stranded without the privilege of the selection of service for his car," said Meryl Q. Allyn, general manager of the auto club.

Turnpike tolls of approximately 1½ cents a mile are equivalent to a nearly 20-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax, on the basis of an average 15 miles to the gallon, Allyn said.

Tolls entitle a motorist to "something more than dangerous long delays, poor service and exorbitant fees when they have a breakdown," Allyn said, adding:

"Studies we have made . . . indicate that average service costs on the toll road are nearly twice that charged on adjacent free roads and average waits for service are approximately one hour and range up to 4½ hours."

Bank Bandit, $10,250 Nabbed In McKeesport

PITTSBURGH — A lone bandit held up the National Bank of McKeesport and escaped with $10,250 Friday, but was captured by police about 25 minutes later.

Melton Rowell, 27, of Braddock, was spotted by McKeesport Patrolman Glenn Bupp, as he crouched at the rear of 532½ Ringgold St., in two and a half blocks from the bank.

The policeman said Rowell had stopped to shave off his mustache and was changing his clothes when he was apprehended. The money, in a pillow case, was stuffed under the bandit's trousers, Bupp said.

Stassen Certain Of Mayor Election In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Republican Harold E. Stassen, nationally known politician, is confident he'll win the Philadelphia mayoralty race next Tuesday.

But the Democrats don't give him much of a chance. They say he'll still be running after election day. They've already held a pre-election victory parade.

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and disarmament advisor to President Eisenhower, has taken plenty of lumps in politics the last few years. Stassen is regarded in many circles as a sturdy contender.

The Democrats held their traditional parade and rally Wednesday night in the 26th Ward in south Philadelphia.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth, endorsed by all three Philadelphia daily newspapers, has the full backing of Pennsylvania's Democratic national committee. Gov. David L. Lawrence, and Philadelphia's Democratic chairman, Congressman William J. Green Jr. Latest registration figures list 531,000 Democrats and 413,083 Republicans.

Midland High Class

To Hold Mock Election

The Midland High School Problems of Democracy Class will conduct a mock election Tuesday in the Music Forum.

Special committees were assigned for the election, which will be conducted under the supervision of George Hamilton, teacher.

Student Testing Discussed By PTA

Achievement and IQ tests given each year at the Jefferson School were discussed Wednesday evening by Mrs. Audrey Litman, elementary supervisor of Hancock County schools, and Mrs. Jack Stanley, county guidance director, during a Parent - Teacher Association meeting at the Newell school.

Bruce Wheatley, president, conducted business. A membership report showed 129 enrolled. Mrs. George Cawthon announced that a parent study group will be started in January.

The third grade class, taught by Mrs. Crawford Haynes, won the attendance banner. Mrs. Paul Burnside led devotions. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Donald Thornberry, Mrs. Arthur Daugherty and Mrs. Dale May.

Cub Scouts will be in charge of the program at the next meeting Nov. 18. George Vukas, cubmaster, will be speaker.

Recovery from Schizophrenia Possible

• Rheumatic Fever
• Tongue-Tie

Q. Does anyone ever recover from schizophrenia?

A. Very generally, about one-third of patients with schizophrenia treated during the first year of illness make a very good recovery, one-third get a little better and are able to return to outside life, and one-third have to remain in the hospital indefinitely. A great deal depends on how soon treatment is started, the personality of the patient, and other factors.

Q. Would you please let me know through Medical Mirror what causes rheumatic fever? Is it inherited?—A.A.

A. Rheumatic fever is almost always preceded by a nose or throat infection caused by a special type of strep germ. Seemingly, the infection must be present for about three weeks before rheumatic symptoms develop. Treatment during this time can ward off rheumatic fever. The disease itself is not inherited but certain family groups seem especially prone to development of rheumatic fever. This suggests some inbred tendency or weakness but just how important this is remains unsolved.

Q. My two-year-old is tongue tied. Would snipping the fold of skin under the tongue help? He hasn't yet started to talk.

A. Many people believe that if a child is slow in acquiring speech, he must be "tongue-tied." It may seem logical to snip the frenulum or fold of skin under the tongue. However, severing the frenulum without anesthesia is barbarous to say the least. A tight or short frenulum does not prevent a child from acquiring speech at the normal age although it may cause a minor lip. Do two things: put the scissors back in the sewing basket and have the child examined by a physician.

Never So Much At Stake Before ...

Steuvenville Central and East Liverpool have met off and on since 1944, but never before has so much been at stake as on Saturday night.

To the victor will go a chance to remain in Ohio's select group of teams for the remainder of the season. The loser no doubt will drop out of the top 10.

When Central received its 9th place rating earlier this week it set the stage for the "game of the year."

Saturday night's contest will mark the second straight week that Central has met a team ranked in the top 10.

Last week the Crusaders knocked off Cincinnati Elder, the same team which defeated high-ranking Alliance.

Tomorrow night's game has stirred considerable interest here.

Merrill Hall, athletic director at ELHS, said the 700 adult reserved seat tickets went like "hotcakes" and the supply of reserved seat tickets was gone by Wednesday.

However, there will be plenty of general admission tickets on hand. Saturday night's crowd is expected to go well over the 7,000 mark at Harding Stadium.

ALTHOUGH comparative scores don't always hold up, what happens if Warren upsets Massillon tonight in the top contest in the state? Where would this put East Liverpool, the only team to defeat Warren?

An upset by Warren and a victory Saturday night for the Pottery should give ELHS a real boost in the ratings.

Mackall Rated Better QB ...

ONE THING is sure, the Central-Pottery clash should produce a fine battle between two fine quarterbacks, Bob Mackall and Joe Polshaw.

According to Jerry Ippoliti, the young coach of Bellaire St. John's, Mackall has the edge on Polshaw.

Ippoliti, whose team played both Central and East Liverpool, says that "Polshaw can't compare with Bob Mackall."

"Polshaw can pass, but he doesn't run nearly as well as Mackall and isn't particularly outstanding as a ballhandler," he added.

This is fitting praise to the Potter quarterback, whose scoring touch has put him first among the point leaders in Eastern Ohio.

It is true that Mackall is a much better runner than he is a passer, but last week in the Struthers contest he flipped two passes that were in the arms of his receivers but were dropped.

The six-game totals reveal that Mackall has gained slightly more

Purdue Coach Protects Interest ...

COACH Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue came up with a new gimmick to protect his interests.

Bernie Allen, his No. 1 quarterback, wears a special gold jersey during practice sessions and no one is allowed to touch him—to prevent injury.

Mollenkopf lost his regular quarterback Ross Fichtner in the second game of the season and he doesn't want anything to happen to Allen.

Mollenkopf told this story the other day: "Once one of our guards tackled Allen. The guard shouted, 'My gosh, what have I done?' and immediately let go of Allen, who went for a touchdown."

The former Potter signal-caller, sore ankle and all, did his share as Purdue defeated Iowa last Saturday to get back in the Big 10 race.

He rolled out for 10 yards, which set up the first touchdown for the Boilermakers.

His ankle doesn't seem to bother his kicking. He has split the up-rights with nine straight extra points so far this season.

NICK MUSURACA had his best day of the college gridiron last Saturday. Nick scored two touchdowns on long runs as Denison rolled over Franklin and Marshall.

When Nick first started the season for Denison he was tabbed as a defensive stalwart, but now it seems he is going to earn his letter as an offensive star.

He has been resting on defense and playing only offense.

This 'N That In Sports ...

THE NEWLY-formed Sportsman Club is planning to honor Bernie Allen with a testimonial dinner Nov. 28. Arrangements are being made by Jim Flasco and John Melvin.

ASIDE to a reader, unofficial records show that Wellsville High School has had two undefeated football teams in its history.

The 1918 squad posted three victories in as many games, while the team of 1919 finished undefeated with a record of 5-0-4. In both years, Van Tillburg was the Tiger coach.

SEVERAL upsets spoiled our percentage last week and the selections this week look even tougher.

The last time we picked the Pottery to lose was at Warren, but they won. The ELHS-Central game is a tossup in our opinion, but we're going to pick the Pottery for one touchdown.

Chester is our choice over St. Mary's, while Midland rates the nod over New Brighton.

Warfare Rates Nod In Garden

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Owners of 11 horses put up the $1,000 entry box fee today for the Garden State Stakes, the 2-year-old gallop for greenbacks that will could point out the 1960 Kentucky Derby winner.

The 1-16-mile Garden State will have its seventh running Saturday at Garden State Park, and California-bred Warfare is the early 8-5 favorite to win the world's richest horse race. Eleven starters would produce a gross purse of $285,075, with $171,045 gross to the winner.

However, only two of six favorites in other years have managed to get into the winner's circle. They were Summer Tan in 1954 and First Landing a year ago.

The probable starting field: Warfare, owned by C. S. Jones of Buena Park, Calif.; C. V. Whitney's Tompon; Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Bourbon Prince; Calumet Farm's Pied d'Or; Sunny Brook Farm's Venetian Way; Edgell Farm's Bally Ache; William S. Miller's Stephen; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd L. Saunders' Azure's Orphan; the C. R. Mac Stable's T. V.

Lark; Thomas A. Grissom's Lurialah; and Joseph Hanover's Judge Martin.

With 11 facing the starter in the televised race, this would be the smallest field in its history. Tops was the 20 who started when Turn To won in the 1953 inaugural.

In the memorable duel last year First Landing won by a head over Tommy Lee in the driving rain and mud, with Sword Dancer third. Last May Tommy Lee edged Sword Dancer in the Derby, with First Landing third.

Warfare, a gray son of the 1954 Derby hero — Determine — can wrap up the 2-year-old championship with a victory Saturday.

Westgate Stops Chester Club, 6-0

Westgate tucked away its third win of the season by blanking Chester reserves, 6-0, Thursday afternoon at the City Park field in Chester.

Keith Bouscher accounted for the only score of the game when he went over from 8-yards out in the second period.

Chester put up a goaline stand when Westgate drove to the one-yard line but failed to put the ball across.

Westgate has lost two games this season.

8 Games Set For District Teams Tonight

Midland Faces New Brighton; Chester Away

Coach John Petchel and his Midland Leopards know better than to treat New Brighton lightly when the two teams meet tonight at Midland.

It was just a year ago that New Brighton pulled the big surprise in Beaver County by handing Midland a 13-7 setback.

General Admission Seats Are Available

Pottery fans planning to attend the ELHS-Central game Saturday night at Steuvenville shouldn't have to worry about tickets of some type. Most of the 4,200 reserve seat tickets are gone, but there are plenty of general admission seats left.

Additional bleachers were installed earlier this season. Harding Stadium can seat up to 9,000 fans. General admission tickets will be on sale at the gate.

The Midland-New Brighton contest will feature an eight-game schedule tonight in the district. Midland now has a 6-1 record.

Chester will be traveling far to meet St. Mary's, downriver in West Virginia.

Coach Dom Amedeo's forces had last week off from the football wars and should be ready to go. The Panthers, led by their touchdown twins, Kenny Sayre and Bill Mayhew, have rolled to six victories and one loss.

South Side plays its final game of the season tonight when the Rams entertain Northwestern. The kickoff is set for 8.

Coach Dave Nichols' South Siders can wrap up the Beaver Valley Class "B" title with a victory over Northwestern.

The Rams have won two while losing five.

New Cumberland will celebrate homecoming tonight when the Raiders entertain Mt. Pleasant. New Cumberland has only one game remaining on its schedule, with Sistersville Nov. 6.

Only one Tri-County game involving a Columbiana County team is scheduled tonight when Lisbon travels to Leetonia.

Other games show United at Mineral Ridge, Brilliant at Irondale and Beaver Local at Wayne this afternoon.

Saturday the feature game finds East Liverpool at Steuvenville Central and Newell engaging in its annual battle with Salineville. The kickoff at Newell is set for 8.

East Palestine visits Poland in a Tri-County League contest, while Western Reserve plays at Fairfield-Waterford.

Young Award Captured By Early Wynn

BOSTON (AP) — Early Wynn, the Chicago White Sox' battering right-hander, is the 1959 winner of the Cy Young Memorial Award as the season's outstanding pitcher in the major leagues.

"I'm tickled pink," Wynn prattled at his home in Nokomis, Fla., when informed of his selection by the Baseball Writers Assn. of America.

Wynn found out about it from his wife. He was out fishing when the telephone call came through. "I got home about 6 o'clock and my wife told me," Wynn said Thursday night. "I'm very happy about it. I don't know if next season will be as eventful as this past one but I sure am hoping for it."

Wynn led the majors with 22 victories last season, while losing 10, and was given credit as being a major factor in Chicago's drive to the American League pennant.

Wynn, who leads all active pitchers with 271 victories, started 37 games last season at the age of 39. He was around at the end of 14 of them, and turned in an earned run average of 3.13.

That performance brought him 13 of the 16 votes cast by the Baseball Writers Committee. Sam Jones of the San Francisco Giants was runnerup with two votes, while young Bob Shaw of the White Sox got the other one.

Mississippi - LSU Battle Tops Weekend Card

By The Associated Press
Mississippi, without costume or mask, comes to Louisiana State's home Halloween night with its trick or treat bag full of gimmicks that may decide the mythical national title.

The game at Baton Rouge, La., is the biggest game of the year and tops a weekend card that begins tonight with a handful of games, and continues Saturday afternoon with the beginning of a new service rivalry when the Air Force Academy, travels to New York to meet Army.

Tonight, Kentucky meets Miami (Fla.) (3-2) in the Orange Bowl in an intersectional game. The Wildcats (1-5) have felt the wrath of both LSU and Ole Miss, losing 9-0 and 16-0, respectively, for the only comparative scores between the nation's No. 1 and 3 ranked teams.

Another top game pits Virginia Military, co-leader with the Citadel in the Southern Conference with a 3-0 mark, against George Washington in a conference game. The Citadel gets its chance Saturday against William and Mary.

In other action tonight, Boston College is at Detroit, Texas Tech at Tulane and College of Pacific at Hawaii.

But none can touch the LSU-Mississippi game, billed as a contest for the Southeastern Conference crown and the Sugar Bowl spot. Miss has been on the outside looking in after losing 14-0 to LSU last year.

Ole Miss has the statistical edge with its No. 3 ranking nationally in offense and defense. LSU is second defensively, but will dare the Rebels to stop its three first units. Mississippi is a one-point underdog.

The Army-Air Force game pits

two unranked teams but still has sold out Yankee Stadium for six weeks. A crowd of around 72,000 will watch the expected passing battle between Joe Caldwell of Army (3-2) and Richie Mayo of the Air Force (4-1). The game will be televised regionally.

Also Saturday, Northwestern (6-0), ranked second, has a Big Ten battle with Indiana (3-2), while 10th-ranked Wisconsin (4-1) plays Michigan.

In the East, fifth-ranked Syracuse (5-0) sends its top-ranked offense and defense against Pitt (3-3) while Penn State, 6-0 and ranked seventh, plays rival West Virginia (3-3).

Texas (No. 4) meets Southern Methodist (3-1-1) with SMU's passing wizard Don Meredith hoping to shoot down the Longhorns' 6-0 over-all record, and Southwest Conference-leading 2-0 mark.

Eight-ranked Auburn (4-1) has an SEC date with Florida (3-2-1) and ninth-ranked Georgia Tech (5-1) plays Atlantic Coast Conference representative Duke (2-4).

Southern California (No. 6) plays northern state rival California (1-5), going after its sixth 1959 win without a loss.

The other major unbeaten untied team, Yale, plays Ivy League foe Dartmouth.

Northwestern Meets Indiana

Big 10 Race Will Reach Showdown Stage Saturday

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten football race enters the showdown stage Saturday in a four-game conference card featuring undefeated Northwestern's clash with tough Indiana.

Northwestern's Wildcats (3-0) must brush aside the snappy Hoosiers (1-2) or possibly fall from undisputed leadership into a multiple tie for first place.

Three other title - significant games include Purdue (2-1) at Illinois (2-1), Wisconsin (2-1) at Michigan (1-2), and Michigan State (2-1) at Ohio State (1-2).

Iowa, the defending champion already out of contention with a 1-3 conference mark, has an apparently easy non-conference joust with Kansas State. Minnesota (1-3) also has an outside engagement, entertaining Vanderbilt.

Should Northwestern stumble against Indiana, the Wildcats would be tied for first at least by the Purdue-Illinois winner and possibly Wisconsin and Michigan State. Wisconsin's Badgers are favored over Michigan, but Michigan State's Spartans are considered only an even choice against Ohio State's host Buckeyes.

The Northwestern-Indiana battle, to be televised regionally presents the first clash between Ara Parseghian, coach of the Wildcats and Phil Dickens of the Hoosiers.

The Wildcats will be trying to wire together their first string of six consecutive victories since 1936. They will be bolstered by return of injured halfback star Ron Burton, out since his ankle was injured against Minnesota three weeks ago.

The Wildcats' homecoming affair will find the 'Cats confronted by single wing attack for the first time this year.

Purdue is a touchdown choice over the Illini at Champaign, Ill. The Boilermakers may be in their best physical shape since trimming Notre Dame 20-7 in the second game of the season. Ross Fichtner is expected back at quarterback and another injured Purdue star, Bob Jarus, is tabbed to start at fullback. Illinois will start its little peppercorn quarterback, Johnny Easterbrook, who suffered a broken foot bone six weeks ago.

Wisconsin, an eight-point favorite, meets Michigan before a Wolverine homecoming crowd of 71,000 in the first meeting between the two schools since 1950.

Phillis, Schmauch Pace Quakers To 36-8 Victory

SALEM — Boardman became the first Ohio team to cross Salem's goal this year, but that wasn't enough to stop the high-flying Quakers who scored a 36-8 victory here Thursday night.

The victory marked the sixth win in seven games for Salem, which faces East Liverpool next Friday night.

The one-two scoring punch of Fred Phillis and Pete Schmauch accounted for all five Quaker touchdowns.

Schmauch scored three times on plunges from inside the 2-yard line, while Phillis tallied twice on runs of one and 25 yards.

Between them they picked up 223 of Salem's 259 yards on the ground.

The Quakers broke on top, 8-0, in the first quarter, scored once in the second, twice in third period and added one TD in the final quarter.

Boardman's lone touchdown came in the second period.

Alston Awarded Raise, Returns To LA In '60

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter Alston will manage the Los Angeles Dodgers again next year.

While this may not be the most astounding development, there was a time this year when Alston's career was rumored heading into eclipse.

But such speculation had long since expired by Thursday, when the Dodgers announced that the foremost citizen of Dartmouth, Ohio, will be back in 1960, with a raise.

Alston, who took the Dodgers from seventh place in the National League to the world championship in one year, probably will make about $40,000. The club didn't mention any figure.

"Alston has accepted terms for a one-year contract," said General Manager Buzzie Bavasi, "and he was awarded a nice raise."

"We usually wait until the major league (winter) meetings to sign our managers, but we have a coaching situation this year and, of course, we would want Alston to sit in on the selection of a man to replace Chuck Dressen."

Dressen has left to manage Milwaukee.

Reached at Dartmouth — where he spends the winter hunting, playing with his grandchildren and shooting billiards — Alston said: "Naturally, I am very pleased and looking forward to next season."

"We had a tough fight this year, but it was a club that wouldn't quit, so I think our chances will be good to win again."

Perkins Leads Clippers To 14-0 Victory

COLUMBIANA — Two long touchdown dashes by halfback Gary Perkins sparked Columbiana High's Clippers to a 14-0 triumph over Springfield here Thursday night.

Perkins dashed 63 yards for one touchdown on a scrimmage play and hauled a punt back 66 yards for another first quarter touchdown as the Clippers evened their season record at 3-3.

Quarterback Paul Murphy passed to Rich Harold for a two-points conversion following the first TD run by Perkins.

A chilled throng of 1,200 in Nicholson Stadium watched a sensational performance by the slender junior, who passed for five touchdowns.

With Kiggins hitting his receivers with uncanny accuracy, the explosive Tigers of Coach Ken Woods made the victory a decisive one by scoring four times in the second half.

THE TIGER linemen, outcharged badly in the first two quarters, flexed their collective muscles in smashing fashion in the second half and smothered the Jackets so effectively that the visitors failed to make a first down.

The "Dad's Night" triumph by the Tigers was their fourth of the season against two defeats and a tie and propelled them toward their finest campaign in nearly a decade.

Jefferson Union, which lost its seventh straight game, struck for two quick touchdowns in the second period and walked off the field with a 16-6 halftime lead — marking the first time they led in any game this season.

However, Woods sent an aroused Tiger eleven back onto the field as the second half opened and with Kiggins throwing and halfback Jim Stevens rushing for long yardage, they captured the lead and went on to win easily.

Kiggins, a 6-foot, 2-inch three-sports star, threw 21 passes, with 13 completions good for 203 yards. His touchdown tosses covered 9, 26, 36, 15 and 16 yards and he could have received credit for two other scoring throws had not the open receivers bobbled the pigskin.

A GOOD portion of the credit also must go to ends Bob Brown and Pat Albanese, each of whom caught two passes for scores and made several "alley-oop" catches during touchdown drives.

Stevens, in his outstanding rushing performance of the season, gained 128 yards in 21 carries and also was on the end of one of Kiggins' scoring passes.

Woods had nothing but bouquets for Kiggins after the game and praised the work of the Tiger line for its second-half showing.

Spearheaded by husky Ralph (Jiggers) Wagner, 248-pound tackle, center Phil Baldwin, Brown and Albanese, the Tiger line from end to end kept the Jackets contained in their own territory in the action-packed second two quarters.

Kiggins, also a fine defensive performer, made a key interception during the third quarter and turned the play into a Wellsville touchdown only moments later to bring the Tigers from behind.

Statistically, Wellsville rolled up a whopping total of 430 yards gained both rushing and passing and finished with an overwhelming edge of 16 to 3 in first downs.

The first quarter went scoreless and found both the underdog Jackets and Wellsville punting often as offensive maneuvers failed to click to any great effect.

WITH ABOUT half of the second period elapsed, JU quarterback Dickinson caught the Tiger backfield napping and hit Bebout, a halfback, with a long aerial. Bebout made an over-the-shoulder catch at the Wellsville 30 and raced into the end zone with 6:23 showing on the scoreboard clock.

The Jackets owned an 8-0 lead when fullback Gillespie plunged over for a two-point conversion.

Kiggins, rotating at quarterback with sophomore Roger Ours, brought the Tigers back into contention with three minutes left before halftime by throwing beautifully nine yards to Albanese for Wellsville's first score. Kiggins was stopped on a bootleg rush for the conversion.

As halftime neared, the Jackets took the next kickoff on their own 28 and Bebout nearly broke away for the distance before being brought down hard on the Wellsville 49. In just five plays, the Jackets moved to the Wellsville 12 from where Dickinson hit Montgomery with a scoring pass and then rushed for the conversion.

An upset appeared in the making as the halftime gun sounded with JU out in front, 16-6, in a surprising show of offensive strength.

WOODS commented after the game that "I knew my boys had underrated JU by their appearance during the first half. Our linemen were being outcharged badly and defensively the kids just weren't carrying out the job."

It took the infuriated Tigers exactly 10 minutes to fight back into contention. After an exchange of punts, Wellsville took possession on the JU 44 and moved to the 26 in four plays. The big effort was made by Stevens who ripped off 19 yards on an off-tackle dive play.

From the JU 26, Kiggins fired a pass to Albanese who was all alone near the end zone and his touchdown made the score 16-12 in favor of the Jackets.

After the kickoff, Kiggins came up with a key interception of one of Dickinson's tosses on the mid-field stripe and returned to the JU 36. The first play was a pass which fell incomplete, but Kiggins then looped another to Stevens on the ensuing down and the senior co-captain rambled 36 yards to put the Tigers in front, 18-16. The same combination scored the conversion for a 20-16 lead by Wellsville.

The Tigers kept the pressure on in the fourth period and Kiggins hit Brown with a 15-yarder and another of 16 yards to wrap up the victory.

Banks Signed For $60,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1958 and a top-ranking candidate to win the 1959 award, has signed his 1960 contract with the Chicago Cubs.

The slugging Cub shortstop signed for a reported $60,000, which would make him the second highest salaried Cub player in history. Outfielder Ralph Kiner was paid $65,000 in 1959 when the Cubs took over his contract from Pittsburgh.

Vice President John Holland said both Ernie and the Cubs were satisfied with the contract. He said Banks got a raise but he did not disclose terms.

He spiked rumors that Banks was to be traded and said the contract was signed a month ago. The 28-year-old right-handed home run hitter, who will be starting his seventh season with the Cubs, led the NL for the last two seasons in runs batted in, with 129 in 1958 and 143 this year.

He led the league in homers in 1958 with 47 and his 45 this year was one behind the leader, Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee.

Banks expressed satisfaction with his new contract but added: "I still say the day we clinch our next pennant will be the happiest day of my life."

OSU Fullback Drills In 'Special Harness'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wearing a special shoulder pad and harness, fullback Bob White went through football practice with his Ohio State teammates Thursday.

A shoulder injury was expected to keep White out of action for about two weeks. However, the fullback said he felt no pain during the session.

Mrs. Bartholomew, Massachusetts Seniors champion, had rounds of 80 and 79 over the par 73. No. 3 course of the Pinehurst Country Club.

Bowling Green, Miami In Blue Chip Special

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Unbeaten Bowling Green, rolling toward a Mid-American Conference championship, faces its toughest test of the season Saturday.

Coach Doyt Perry's Falcons battle Miami, which has captured the MAC title four times in the last five years.

The Redskins are fresh from a 24-0 victory over previously unbeaten Ohio University and have been in these key games before.

The BeeGees, atop the statewide standings with a 5-0 record, can look up the conference race with a triumph.

A big skirmish is a highlight of a 21-game program for Ohio football followers this weekend.

In Columbus, Ohio State's deflated Buckeyes try to get back on the win trail against Michigan State's improving Spartans.

Ohio U., hoping to keep its slim title hopes alive, entertains Western Michigan in another MAC tilt. The feature in the 14-member Ohio Conference pits Otterbein against Heidelberg. Both have 4-1 conference marks and are a half game behind Wooster (4-0). It's a win-or-lose struggle for the two while the Scots go outside the loop for the second straight week.

Bluffton, which has the Mid-Ohio League title already clinched, seeks a clean sweep over league rivals as it faces Defiance. Elsewhere, crosstown rivals Xavier and Cincinnati lock horns in a Queen City special and Dayton, trying to snap a five-game losing streak, battles Villanova.

The complete schedule: Big Ten—Michigan State at Ohio State. Mid-American — Western Michigan at Ohio U., Miami at Bowling Green, Kent State at Toledo (n).

Ohio Conference — Denison at Wittenberg, Capital at Marietta, Kenyon at Mount Union, Otterbein at Heidelberg (n).

Mid-Ohio—Bluffton at Defiance, Ohio Northern at Ashland (n), Findlay at Wilmington (n).

Presidents Conference—Thiel at John Carroll, Western Reserve at Wayne State.

Other games: Akron at Baldwin-Wallace, Edinboro at Hiram; Case Tech at Ohio Wesleyan, Xavier at Cincinnati, Oberlin at Earlham, Wooster at Albion, Dayton at Villanova, Muskingum at Waynesburg (n).

FIGHT RESULTS
Los Angeles — Pelon Cervantes, 129, Mexicali, Mexico, outpointed Kid Anahuac, 129, Mexico City, 10. Philadelphia — Carl Hubbard, 147, Philadelphia, stopped Willie (Pineapple) Stevens, 143, Boston, 10.

Odd And Interesting
By W. L. GORDON

"Bootlegging," as applied to the illegal selling of liquor, originated many years ago on the Indian reservations in the West. The original bootlegger peddled booze unlawfully among the Indians. He was so called from the practice of carrying flasks of "fire water" hidden in the legs of his boots.

"How should I know what I'll be when I grow up! ... Why can't I have a few carefree years before I start scheming how to make a living?"

Auto Damaged Slightly In Downtown Accident

A Perry (Ohio) man's auto was damaged slightly in a mishap Thursday at 6:48 p. m. on 6th St. at Dresden Ave., police said.

The left side of a 1957 two-door sedan driven by Mervin Lemmon was struck by a backing 1958 two-door operated by Mrs. Margaret Atwood, 32, of 1525 Lisbon St., police said. Mrs. Atwood's car was undamaged.

Meanwhile, police said a hit-skip car that damaged the parked auto of Ambrose Gratton of W. 9th St. Tuesday night at W. 9th and May Sts. was driven by a 15-year-old boy who did not have a driver's license. The youth was traced through a license number furnished by a witness.

City CD Director Speaks To Women

James Walker, city Civil Defense director, reported on a nationwide CD seminar which he attended at Washington Oct. 22-23 at a meeting of the Women's Civil Defense Council Thursday night at City Hall.

Walker told the group the national meeting stressed construction of home shelters against atomic attack and "home preparedness," the individual's responsibility for survival of his family in the event of nuclear bombing or natural disaster. He said the meeting also aired ways of educating the public to the need for CD preparations.

The group endorsed renewal of the City Hospital levy at the election Tuesday. Mrs. Luella Myers, president, conducted business. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Helen Jones and Mrs. Ruth Curtis.

For the next meeting Dec. 1, a Christmas party will be held at Meade's Restaurant near Wellsville.

Midland Democratic Rally Slated Sunday

2 Unhurt As Car Flips In Super-road Mishap

Earl L. Pander, 23, of Wellsville and William R. Stewart, 21, of Hammondsville escaped serious injury when Pander's 1956 coach veered off the East Liverpool-Wellsville Super-road shortly before midnight and rolled over.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Pander, 2104 Chester Ave., attempted to pass another auto a short distance south of the city limits when he lost control. The car crossed the medial strip, skidded on the berm and turned over on its top, demolishing the auto, officers reported. Pander, cited for reckless operation, is slated for a hearing Saturday in Municipal Court.

The two men, who received minor bruises, were en route to East Liverpool.
